Being a planned city, Noida has quickly emerged as a realty hotspot. Now the city is running short of residential and commercial spaces, and thus the fringes of the city like areas along Noida- Greater Noida expressway and Greater Noida have offered some great options to the homebuyers. Also, Greater Noida is among the fastest developing real estate hubs in India. Its proximity with New Delhi, Agra, and Mathura and some global corporate giants coming up in the area have largely contributed to the booming values of real estate here.
